

Howdy Aggie Moms!!!

It is time to register for Aggie Mom Camp. We have changed a few things for this year's camp to try and make it more affordable and hopefully give you more opportunities to visit with other Aggie Mom's, shop our Vendors and even have some time with your Aggie. So please take just a moment to read this informational document to help make your registration process easier.

We are letting you pick your choice for lodging. We did work with hotels in the area, and they have offered discounted rates for us. You will find the links and all the information that you need to book your own hotel. You are welcome to find a friend or two to split a room with or even reach out to the hotels to block a group for your Hometown Aggie Club members so that you can all stay together. All events for camp will take place in the Hall of Champions at Kyle Field. There is free parking right in front of the entrance to Hall of Champions as well as parking at the Gene Stallings Garage right behind The Texas A&M Hotel and Conference Center.

Your registration price includes all meals and our dinner programs, breakfast programs, our Sunday brunch program, and a T-shirt. Our programs will include student groups, Texas A&M faculty and staff, special guest speakers and a few special surprises. We are separating out the classes and tours. You will have the opportunity to select which tours and/or classes you want to attend and can select up to 2. Be sure to look at the times and plan your afternoon accordingly. You will simply select your choice and add to your cart.

One important note because we wanted to open registration before the holidays, we have worked with those helping us with our tours and classes but with the event being in February, there is always a chance that something might change. We promise to get that information to you with another option should this occur.

We hope that you can join us and build friendships with other Aggie Moms. We really are Stronger Together.

If you have any questions about Aggie Mom Camp, please feel free to contact me at amcchair@aggiemoms.org or call me at 832-452-6452.

Gig'em,

Dana Tuggle- Aggie Mom Camp Chair